

Dawud Dickson, Company project and sales manager

Dawud wanted graphical data reports about populations and other data of people, as he believes that it would benefit him for meetings to be able to have one place, where he can use to present data to other colleagues so that everything is clear and all parties can have visual aid to see and to help make things clear and understandable for all. To help him with his wishes we created a website where all his graphical data reports as well as cities and any other data that he may need to be in one place in this website so he can search all he has to do is login and all data that he needs and wants is in one place he can also refer it to other people and they can look in to the website and learn more about what they want to know. He also wants it to visually appealing which we made also.
