

Gran Clock

Occupation: University Roehampton Head teacher

Location of residency: London

Age: 56

Experience: 10 years

Daily Tasks

Collaborates with students and fellow teachers throughout the week.

Evaluates students grades and progress to improve performance goals.

Plans out class curriculum and goals and tasks to meet tests and year final projects and end goals.

Makes sure student grades and progress to improve performance goals.

Monitors 10 lessons with 30 students per class session.

Who is he?

56 years old, a university head teacher, a avid traveller also comfortable with and smart phone usage. He is well organized, has time sense, likes planning details beforehand. He likes to take informed decisions.

Teacher's Environment: The main sources of contacts that are been used are Microsoft office and Emails. The internet and Library catalogues/resources used in the teacher's environment. Gran also likes to work on tablets and phone apps while collaborating with other staff members.

Goals:

Planning details: "The goal is to help them to refine their learning contracts already in the beginning of the course. This allows to encourage them to think in detail."

Planning the learning environment:

"it's important to know what kind of resources and tools students are working and planning to use. Using this technique to design the learning environment according to their needs.

Needs: Updated software and two new laptop replacement. Some classrooms need chair replacements.

Frustrations: Hates when the internet has connection problems with being in meetings, which slowdowns the classes when taken online or meets that are being placed.

Challenges: when the students are regularly late to the class which interrupts the lessons. Another challenges that is faced daily student copying and sharing their work each other which leads to copy-right problems.